note

- Offer valid only on Prepaid and while stock lasts
- Your phone will come preloaded with P5 on-net airtime, and for you to qualify for the other monthly P5 on-net credits, you should make at least two chargeable events, either calls or SMS in a given month.
- The phone is SIM locked to the Orange Botswana network
- Offer is not valid if the handset is bought without the offer SIM card
- By accepting the offer, the customer accepts that they agree to participate in and receive SMS messages from Orange for promotional activities
- For more information, call customer care - 123
- It is understood that any customer information provided to Orange will be made available to any statutory and regulatory authority if so required without prior intimation to the customer.
- Service shall not be used for any purpose in violation of the law or against public policy or national integrity and security.

warranty

- The customer agrees that by purchasing the trendy pack, warranty on their phone will only be effected by completing and submitting the Prepaid national registration forms
- The customer agrees that Orange shall not be liable or responsible for any alleged fault of any nature on the phone.
- Once the validity of the SIM card expires, the customer gets a grace period as determined by Orange. The services shall be automatically deactivated when the grace period expires without any notice. Orange shall not refund the residual value left on the Orange Prepaid card to the customer after the grace period is over. Deactivation would necessarily mean that all incoming and outgoing calls are barred. However, if the card is recharged before expiry of the grace period, the residual value shall be carried forward to the next validity period counted from the date of recharge. In case the card is not recharged before the expiry of the aforesaid period, any residual value shall lapse immediately. If the customer does not recharge the card within the said grace period, the card stands cancelled and might be allocated to another customer important notice:

- Note that these handsets are SIM locked to the Orange Botswana network. Any attempts to de-SIM lock the phone will render the warranty on this phone null and void.
