SCHEDULE 1

Part A: Service Level Agreement

1. Purpose of SLA

This Service Level Agreement (“SLA”) sets out the levels of service provided by one Party to the other under this Agreement and the consequences of failures to meet those service levels.

2. Service Definition

The Service to which this SLA applies is the Call conveyance services provided by the Orange System to the OPERATOR System, or by the Operator System to the Orange System.

3. Service Metrics

The quality of the Services provided by one System to the other System shall be measured against the following objective criteria:

- Answer-Seizure Ratio (“ASR”);
- Mean Fault Clearance Time (“MFCT”)
- Average monthly Route utilization for traffic (Should be less than 80%)
- Average monthly Traffic Congestion (Should be less than 3%)
- Average monthly Signalling utilization (should be less than 30%)

4. ASR

ASR is the percentage ratio of:
The number of Calls to a country or network destination in a calendar month answered by a natural person; to
The number of Calls initiated to such a country or network destination in such calendar month.

5. MFCT

5.1 The MFCT for a month is the sum of all Correction Times for such month divided by the number of Service Affecting Faults in such month.

5.1.2 A Service Affecting Fault is any failure in the transmission or terminating equipment of one parties' System, which causes full or partial call failure in one or both transmission directions. Examples include: no incoming calls; no outgoing calls; noise on every call; post dial delay on every call; echo on every call.

- 5.1.3 For any Service Affecting Fault the Correction Time shall be the time in minutes between; The time when the fault is registered by one Party with the other Party; and
The time the fault is resolved and confirmed as resolved by one Party or to the other Party.
- 5.2 Target Service Levels
 - 5.2.1 The target ASR percentages (which should be equalled or exceeded) for each destination are as agreed between the Parties from time to time. The target MFCT is four hours or less in each calendar month
 - 5.2.2. For any planned maintenance, the responsible Party undertaking the activity should inform the other party, in no less than 5 working days the intended changes and their full impact.
 - 5.2.3 Emergency maintenance is a type of maintenance work that needs to be carried out immediately due to the impact or potential impact to services. If this work affects or has the potential to affect the Orange or Operator Services, then, as much advance notice will be given as the situation permits.
 - 5.2.4 Advice of proposed work will be provided by email or hand delivered, the receiving Party should acknowledge receipt of the advice within 24 hours.
- 6 Point of Interconnection
 - 6.1 The Point(s) of Connection shall be established by reference to a Line of Demarcation, which Line of Demarcation will be constituted by the Digital Distribution Frame (DDF) of Orange and OPERATOR respectively and as sited within that party's premises

6.2 It is the responsibility of each party to maintain at its own cost, the installation and ongoing maintenance of their equipment on that parties side of the Line of Demarcation.

6.3 Notwithstanding the above and any other provision in this agreement, any cost which Orange will incur as a result of the request for Interconnection by the Operator shall be covered by the Operator and Orange shall not grant access to its network until the costs are paid in full.

7. Transmission

7.1 Interconnect capacity will be based on digital technology operating at 2.048 MBit/sin accordance with CCITT Recommendations G.702 and G.703.

7.2 All network elements shall comply with the relevant ITU-T Recommendations in respect of jitter and wander. These include the ITU standards: G.823, G825 and G921.

8. Synchronisation

The network is synchronised in accordance with the G.811, G812 and G. 813 recommendations

9. Hosting of Equipment

9.1 Each Party shall be responsible for planning, provision, Operation and maintenance of all Equipment and facilities located on its side of the interface at the point of interconnection.

9.2 Where a Party's equipment or facilities are located at the Other Party's premises (Hosting Party) the other Party shall pay the Hosting Party all reasonable expenses for hosting the equipment including rental for space occupied by the equipment and charges for the usage of Power.

9.3 The Other Party shall give the Hosting Party at least 48 hours prior notice to access their equipment located in the Hosting Party's premises and shall be accompanied by employees of the Hosting Party, at all times during the stay in the premises.

9.4 The Hosting Party shall approve all Equipment located in its premises prior to installation and shall have access to the Equipment at all times.

- 9.6 Where the Other Party is unable to offer the Other Party internal space for the hosting the Equipment, the Other Party shall procure at its own cost an external shelter to house the equipment.

- 10. Redundancy

- 10.1 Each Party shall provide for redundancy of its system. The Parties will provide for the different levels of redundancy being at physical level (therefore two points) and at Protocol level, i.e. different signalling links.

SCHEDULE 2

- 12. Where the duration of the Call extends across more than one time band, the total charge will be comprised of the sum of the component duration multiplied by the rates relevant to each individual time band.

- 13. Where it is impractical for both Orange and the Operator to record the duration of traffic for any period, the parties shall calculate traffic using data for the immediately previous period using the following formula to calculate the charges payable:

 $D = N \times A \times B$
Where:
N = the agreed number of Calls of a particular class (charge band)
A = the average duration of Calls (in minutes)
B = the pula per minute charge
D = the total charge for all Calls in pula

Signaling Protocols

1 GENERAL

- 1.1 The Parties shall consult together on a timely basis relating to the practical implementation of this Agreement. They shall apply their reasonable endeavours to resolve any technical and operational problems encountered in relation to this Agreement.

On receipt of such report the parties shall consult with a view to achieving a mutually acceptable solution to such problem.
- 1.3 In the practical implementation of interconnection the parties shall at all times apply standards and operating guidelines which in the first instance have due regard to any legal requirements imposed upon them and thereafter wherever practicable shall apply the relevant international standards (in particular but not limited to those of ITU-T). Where alternative international standards exist, in making their selection, the parties shall give preference to those adopted by European telecommunication administrations. Where the international standards are not available as reference, the parties shall develop their own common standards or other agreed solutions.

- 2.1 Orange and Operator shall each ensure that signalling arrangements between their respective Systems conform to BTNR146 (IUP) and BTNR147/Blue Book (MTP)
- 2.2 Signalling links shall be carried in time slot 1 of a Circuit. Each Circuit which is required to carry signalling shall also be capable of conveying Calls. Time slot 0 will be skipped and be used for synchronization.
- 2.3 Signalling links shall be carried in the first and second Switch Connections of an Interconnect Route, depending on the architecture proposed.
- 2.4 Initial Interconnection is inclusive of a C7 or SS7 signalling link (two Switch Connections) which will accommodate up to 40 Switch Connections. Capacity above this will require a further signalling link.
- 2.5 Since Orange and the Operator operate their Switch Connections in a bi-directional manner, either Switch may seize the free traffic channels and one or both Switches shall clear the seizure and re-attempt the Call set-up. Priority on dual seizure shall be given to Orange. In order to minimise the number of simultaneous traffic seizures, each Switch shall search its traffic channels in the reverse sequence to the other Switch. The Orange switch shall seize channels in ascending order and the Operator Mobile Switch shall seize channels in descending order.
- 2.6 The connection between Orange and the Operator shall be through compatible Media Gateways using Quasi signalling.
- 2.7 Orange and the Operator shall ensure that they do not use Point Codes already in use by other Operators.

3 AVAILABLE SERVICES

- 4.2 Wherever possible advance warning should be given to the other party when a party becomes aware of a mass calling event likely to introduce higher than normal traffic levels across a particular traffic route.
- 4.3 Should either party (the "first party") fail to take appropriate network management actions in accordance with paragraph 4.2 above then the other party may in order to protect all or part of its System arrange to disconnect any traffic routes creating or helping to create such failure. Such action shall be notified to the first party prior to disconnection.
- 4.4 The Parties shall interconnect on one point being the Orange Gaborone switch until the volume of traffic between the Parties dictates otherwise
- 4.5 All traffic from the Operator towards Orange shall be National traffic.
- 4.6 All traffic between the Operator and Orange shall at all times be Circuit switched traffic, and shall not be transmitted via Internet protocol.

5. NUMBERING

- 5.1 Both Parties shall conform to the national and international numbering formats in place from time to time.
- 5.2 Both Parties shall at all times notify the other in writing giving details of new number ranges allocated to them and amendments to existing number ranges.

- 5.3 When conveying a Call to the other Party's System, each Party shall convey to the other the complete number including the national and international trunk prefix.

- 5.4 Each Party (the "first party") shall use its reasonable endeavours to notify the other Party in writing, giving details of new number ranges allocated to the first Party and amendments to or deletions of existing number ranges, in each case at least thirty (30) days prior to the implementation of the same.
